

Difficult to understand how a company can indicate they have funds to go into the next year and beyond and then put the stock at zero value. The company should be giving the shareholders the funds and price value. I leave it to the lawyers to settle this case in favor of the stakeholders and give us our money back. Your interest and consideration in our favor is greatly appreciated. Send a message to this company and others, this is not the way to do business.